CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

School's Out Washington

1990-2017

School's Out Washington (SOWA) is a statewide non-profit organization established to ensure that high quality afterschool and summer programs are available so that all of Washington's youth — particularly low-income youth and youth of color — have opportunities to succeed in school and in life. As the Founding CEO, provided direction and strategic guidance to enable SOWA to develop, grow and fulfill its mission, vision, and goals. Managed 45 staff and coaches and a budget of over 6 million dollars. Worked in collaboration with the board of directors and leadership team to ensure high quality programming and support for the network of partnerships and programs across Washington. Provided leadership to advance SOWA's critical role as the expert and backbone organization, working closely with public and private programs offered outside the traditional school day throughout the state. Accomplishments in 2017 include: 1,909 afterschool and summer learning program staff trained; 2,792 coaching and training hours delivered; $527,880 in grants distributed to programs and $8.3 million in grants awarded (grant period 2018-2021). Over 664 programs were supported with 94,000 youth impacted.

CHILDREN'S SERVICES DIRECTOR
